President Lines:

I am writing this letter to resign from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and I hereby renounce my membership therein.

I am doing so freely of my own will because of personal reasons that needn't be discussed here or ever. I simply choose to become a non-Mormon. I do not wish excommunication, church court, or any action other than removal of my name from all membership records.

This must be done as a private matter between myself and Church officials only. By doing exactly as I request, the Church will avoid any legal measures that I might otherwise pursue.

I also request that I be notified in writing by the appropriate Church officials that my name has indeed been removed from all Church records.

Thank you kindly for your prompt attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Kay R. Shumway
